IAMSE - INTERNATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF MEDICAL SCIENCE EDUCATORS

Peter GM de Jong
Editor-in-Chief, International Association of Medical Science Educators (IAMSE), The Netherlands

The International Association of Medical Science Educators IAMSE is a nonprofit professional development society organized and directed by health professions educators whose goals include promoting excellence and innovation in teaching, student assessment, program evaluation, instructional technology, human simulation, and learner-centered education.

IAMSE was founded in 1997 based on the guiding principle that all who teach the sciences fundamental to medical practice should have access to the most current information and skills needed to excel as educators. Through IAMSE, medical science educators have a trustworthy source of information and mutual support, and can belong to an organization dedicated to their professional development. The ultimate beneficiaries of our combined efforts are the subsequent generations of health care providers around the globe – our students – who are trained in both the art and science of modern medicine. With members in over 40 countries, including basic science and clinical faculty as well as members representing faculty from several other health care disciplines, the organization is international in scope and interdisciplinary in nature.

IAMSE offers several professional development opportunities as the annual Association Meeting, online Webinars, IAMSE Manuals, the IAMSE Medical Educator Fellowship program, the Educational Scholarship Grant program, the Student Research Grant program, and the online peer-reviewed journal Medical Science Educator. For more details about the organization and ways to become involved, please visit www.iamse.org.
