

NATIONAL
Medical Excellence
AWARDS 2018

The National Medical Excellence Awards is a national level award that recognises the efforts of clinicians, clinician scientists and other healthcare professionals for their clinical and research work. It acknowledges their contributions in advancing healthcare and in improving the standards of patient safety and quality of care, which ultimately improve people's lives.

NATIONAL OUTSTANDING
CLINICIAN EDUCATOR
AWARD

The National Outstanding Clinician Educator Award recognises individuals with at least 15 years of service in public or private healthcare establishments. They are well-respected clinicians who have contributed substantially to the postgraduate education of clinicians and/or clinician scientists.

Associate Professor Chen Fun Gee

Director, Division of Graduate Medical Studies,
Yong Loo Lin School of Medicine, National University of Singapore

Head, Division of Critical & Intensive Care,
National University Hospital

Senior Consultant, Department of Anaesthesia,
National University Hospital

National University Health System

"FOR HIS EXTRAORDINARY DEDICATION AND DISTINGUISHED CONTRIBUTIONS TO MEDICAL EDUCATION WITH THE AIM OF ADVANCING HEALTHCARE STANDARDS IN SINGAPORE."