

Occupational Safety and Health Policy

CONDUCT

effective identification, assessment, control and communication of hazards to ensure the safety and well-being of everyone. Prevention of accident, incident or ill health is paramount.

REINFORCE

Safety and Health awareness through education, training and safety programmes, including data protection and mental health

ELEVATE

Safety and Health management performance in the department through audits and evaluations for continual improvements

ADHERE

to and keep abreast of all relevant Occupation Safety and Health Legislation, Guidelines and Standards of NUS

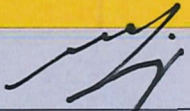

SUCCEED

in building a positive Safety and Health culture for all in the department

SAFE MANAGEMENT MEASURES

Compliance with updated ORMC COVID-19 Circular

Assoc. Prof. George Yip
HOD and Safety Chair,
Department of Anatomy

Updated November 2022