Course Outline

Multiple Choice Questions (MCQs) dominates the assessment in medical education. Despite their wide-spread usage, high quality, context-rich, error-free MCQs that test clinical application and critical thinking are hard to come by. In this workshop, we'll work together and develop MCQs that test beyond knowledge recall and comprehension. We'll explore usage of videos, audios and other multi-media formats to make MCQs more realistic.

This is intermediate to advance level workshop. Please bring clinical materials such as images, audios, videos, x-ray etc. You must bring your own laptop.
