

NUS-Priority Research In Medical Education

H.E.A.L.I.N.G. as a Teaching Tool

It is increasingly the duty of medical professionals to deliver 'high value, cost conscious care', in a world of rising healthcare costs. Yet, there has been little progress in curricular innovation or advancement in medical education on healthcare policy in recent years globally and in Singapore. Sit back, as together as a team, Dr Alfred Kow, Dr Gao Yujia and I introduce to you our dream of using technology-enhanced simulation learning safely and effectively to boost the current curriculum for healthcare economics and cost by creating a game-based programme called 'Health Economics Awareness Learning' or H.E.A.L.I.N.G. as a teaching tool.

Dr TAN Ze Ying

Department of General Medicine, Respiratory Medicine Division, Ng Teng Fong General Hospital, National University Health System

Zeying is a newly minted Associate Consultant, having exited her specialty training in Respiratory Medicine this year. She spent 6 years in Junior and Senior Residency at NUHS and the culture of teaching has deeply inspired her. She has a keen interest in Medical Education and believes that education is key in ensuring we continue to train relevant and competent young doctors.

Share your work at
NUS-PRIME 2020

If you are involved in medical and health professions educational projects and would like to:

- Present your research findings to a wider community including educators and researchers and receive feedback on results interpretation and other matters
- Share your research ideas/proposals and receive pedagogical as well as methodological advice to develop the project.

Please contact us at medbox73@nus.edu.sg

Date : 11 November 2019 (Monday)

Time : 12.30pm - 1.30pm

Venue : Multi-Purpose Hall 1, Level 3, MD1, 12 Science Drive 2, Singapore 117549

Lunch will be provided from 12noon to 12.30pm.

Please RSVP through the CenMED Registration Portal via link or QR code (account registration is required for new users) by 6 November for catering purposes: <https://inetapps.nus.edu.sg/fds/Default.aspx>

   NUSMedCenMED

SMC CME / CNE / CPE accreditations are being finalised
Centre for Medical Education (CenMED) promotes professionalism and excellence in medical education
<http://medicine.nus.edu.sg/cenmed/>