

CenMED Global Webinar Series

Leadership in Medical Education During Challenging Times

29 September 2020 (Tuesday) | 5pm - 6pm Singapore Time (GMT +8)

The speakers will share how best leaders should focus and manage the learning environment, in particular during the current COVID-19 crisis. Local and international examples as well as leadership and management theories will be discussed. We are hopeful that these sharing will assist others in the region and beyond to do the same in their own settings.

Leadership Challenges and Strategies in Times of Crisis, Uncertainty and Change

This presentation explores some of the challenges and strategies leaders can adopt to help steer their followers through choppy waters

Prof Judy McKIMM, Director of Strategic Educational Development and Professor of Medical Education Swansea University Medical School, United Kingdom

Judy trained as a nurse, with an academic background in social and health sciences, education and management. She has led curriculum development, implementation and accreditation of undergraduate medical and postgraduate programmes, and has worked on over sixty international health workforce, reconstruction and education reform projects. She publishes widely on medical education and leadership and runs health professions' leadership and education courses and workshops internationally. Her most recent book is Medical Education at a Glance (with Jill Thistlethwaite and Kirsty Forrest).

Navigating in Uncharted Seas - Examples from Singapore Medical Education

The COVID-19 pandemic has impacted the learning environment for both medical students and residents in Singapore. This presentation will cover the leadership strategies and approaches taken to mitigate the impact of the pandemic

A/Prof Malcolm MAHADEVAN, Designated Institutional Official (DIO)
National University Health System, Singapore

A/Prof Malcolm Mahadevan is the Designated Institutional Official (DIO) at the National University Health System (NUHS) and Senior Consultant with the Department of Emergency Medicine, National University Hospital (NUH). He was the Head of Emergency Medicine from 2010 till March this year. A/Prof Malcolm is actively involved in medical education and was the Assistant Dean (Education) at NUS Yong Loo Lin School of Medicine and holds several appointments involved in admissions, curriculum, faculty assessment and electives.

Moderator

Dr Dujeeva D Samarasekera
Director
Centre for Medical Education
Yong Loo Lin School of Medicine
National University of Singapore
Singapore

Register via the link or scan the QR code
<https://inetapps.nus.edu.sg/fds/Default.aspx>

Closing Date:
Friday
17 September 2020

