

LESSONS LEARNT DURING THE PANDEMIC & STRATEGIES IN THE NEW NORMAL

-ASSESSMENT-

DATE: TUESDAY, 14 SEPTEMBER 2021

11.30AM (+7 GMT)/12.30PM (+8 GMT)

Ardi Findyartini

Head, Department of Medical Education, Faculty of Medicine Universitas Indonesia

Dr Ardi Findyartini graduated as a medical doctor from Faculty of Medicine Universitas Indonesia in 2002 and has completed her PhD in Medical Education focusing on the clinical reasoning teaching and learning in undergraduate medical programs from the University of Melbourne in 2012. She is currently the Head of Department of Medical Education and the Head of Medical Education Unit at the faculty. She's been actively involved as the resource person in the faculty development programs at the FMUI and other medical schools in Indonesia. Her current research focuses are clinical teaching, clinical reasoning, curriculum development, professionalism, interprofessional education and cultural related issues in medical education area.

Alongkone Phengsavanh

Vice-Dean, University of Health Sciences Laos

Dr Alongkone Phengsavanh is an Obstetrician / Epidemiologist and completed full training in Obstetrics & Gynecology and Epidemiology. Currently, Dr Phengsavanh is the Vice-Dean at Faculty of Medicine, University of Health Sciences, Laos. He heads the National Task Force for Strategic Objectives for Improvement of Maternal Health (SO2) and is also the Chief of National Technical Committee for Maternal Death Surveillance and Response. He serves as the external reviewer for WHO handbook for prevention of Unsafe Abortion (edited version). Dr Phengsavanh is keen in quantitative research in Medical Education, Reproductive Health and Obstetrics & Gynecology.

Register at <https://bit.ly/amsn1409>