

Special NUS-PRIME Edition

NUS-Priority Research In Medical Education

- Need some guidance on drafting an abstract for submission to a journal?
- Looking to enhance your abstract to boost the likelihood of manuscript acceptance?

Submit Your Abstract(s) Now!

NUS-PRIME Special Edition is:

- Specially tailored for health professions educators from the Asia Pacific region
- Advice on how to position research abstract for publication

Submit a 250-word abstract (by 30 May 2024) on your research ideas/ work here or via the QR code

Authors of shortlisted abstracts will receive online consultation from journal editors to enhance their abstracts

This will take place during the session on 4 July 2024 from 4pm to 6pm (SG Time):

Sharing by guest speaker Prof Peter de Jong followed by consultation with journal editors

Scan here

Prof Peter de Jong

President, International Association of Medical Science Educators (IAMSE);
Former Editor-in-Chief of Medical Science Educator
The Netherlands

In the 2022 and 2023 series, our in-house and guest editors provided their insights and improved 16 abstracts from countries like Hong Kong, India, Malaysia and Singapore.

"Thank you for arranging the NUS-PRIME Consultation session in October 2022. I am pleased to share with you that a revised version of my manuscript has just been accepted by Medical Education – Really Good Stuff. Thanks again to the wonderful work of CenMED organizing the session, which offered me invaluable advice in revising this piece."

Feedback by abstract author from a previous session

