

Friday 14 January 2022, 11.30 am

Hall 4, Virtual Conference

FREE COMMUNICATION 4

Impacts on Malaysian Medical Student Wellbeing and Experiences during the COVID-19 Pandemic

Jessica Cockburn, Malaysia

Messaging Apps in Ob-Gyn Ultrasound Fellowship Training: From Simple Communication to Essential Virtual Medicine Tool during COVID-19 & Beyond

Maria Lilia Reyes, Philippines

Development, Implementation and Evaluation of an Integrated Modular Anatomy & Healthcare Assessment Program in an Undergraduate Nursing Course: Student's Perceptions & Learning Experiences

Tanushri Roy, Singapore

Using Natural Language Process Techniques and Data Visualization Methods for Analyzing the Learning Effects of Patient-Physician Communication Teaching

Jeng-Cheng Wu, Taiwan

Evaluation of Logical Communication Skills of Health Science Students in Japan

Hiroyuki Nozaka, Japan

Gamification through Collaborative Learning in Medical Education

Sasikala Devi Amirthalingam, Malaysia

Communications Course Using an Online Platform

Nagavalli Somasundaram, Singapore

Growing Medical Educators in the Pacific. Are Workshops Enough to Change Educational Practice?

Sinead Kado, Australia