APMEC 2027

Kyoto University
Guided Academic Visit and Discussion

Wednesday, 13 January 2027
2:00 – 5:00 PM

As part of APMEC 2027, participants are invited to join a guided academic visit to Kyoto University. The programme includes a discussion on medical education in Japan with Professor Hitomi Kataoka, Center for Medical Education and Internationalization, Kyoto University, followed by visits to selected academic and research facilities.

Professor Hitomi Kataoka will participate in the discussion session. She will not guide the entire tour.

Visit Highlights

Center for Cancer Immunotherapy and Immunobiology (CCII)

A leading research institute dedicated to cancer immunotherapy and immunobiology.

Museum of the Faculty of Medicine

The museum presents the history of medical technology, education, and research at Kyoto University.

Experimental Station for Medicinal Plants

The station cultivates medicinal plants for research and education.

Center for iPS Cell Research and Application (CiRA)

A Kyoto University research center dedicated to advancing iPS cell research and its medical applications.

Participation Information

Participation fee:	JPY 10,000 per person
Language:	English
Number of participants:	12 – 30
Meeting point:	Kyoto University (in front of CCII)

Please gather at the northwest corner of the intersection of Konoe-dori and Higashioji-dori by 1:50 PM.
The programme begins at 2:00 PM.

Registration

Advance registration is required.

Please note: Registration is open to registered conference participants only.

https://forms.gle/XwA7kp3Eq1nChXt26

Tour arrangements:
Nozomi Travel Agency