

MEDICAL PROFESSIONALISM: CAN IT BE TAUGHT? CAN IT BE ASSESSED?

Alastair Campbell, Erle Lim, Tan Chay Hoon and Jacqueline Chin

This workshop will focus on the practical problems of teaching and assessing professionalism in medical education. After a brief introduction on theoretical aspects, participants will be introduced to a range of methods for engaging students in the topic and for assessing the different components which make up medical professionalism. The workshop will explore the effective use of technology, including online interaction, film and other AV material.
