

Health Experiences Singapore and the Database of Individual Patients' Experiences (DIPEx) International

Talk Synopsis:

DIPEx International (<https://dipexinternational.org>) is an association of qualitative and clinical researchers from 14 countries who conduct high quality research on patient experiences and disseminate research findings on publicly accessible websites in addition to scientific conferences and peer-reviewed publications. Health Experiences Singapore—a shared initiative between the Department of Family Medicine, National University Health System and the Centre for Research in Health System Performance (CRIHSP), Yong Loo Lin School of Medicine, National University of Singapore—is expected to become the 15th member of DIPEx International. This presentation will outline the DIPEx methodology and our plans for our first few research projects under the Health Experiences Singapore banner.

 Speaker:
Dr Laurie J Goldsmith

About the Speaker:

Dr. Laurie J. Goldsmith is a qualitative and mixed methods health services and health policy researcher. She has conducted research in Singapore, Canada, and the United States through multidisciplinary collaborations, including partnerships with patients, providers, and health system decision makers. Her research focuses on the patient and physician experience of receiving and delivering health care and the influence of health care structure on health care delivery. Additional interests include access to health care from empirical, policy, and theoretical perspectives; and patient and public involvement in research. She holds a PhD in Health Policy from the University of North Carolina and a MSc in Health Research Methodology from McMaster University. Dr. Goldsmith is a Senior Research Fellow in the Division of Family Medicine and the Centre for Research in Health System Performance at the Yoo Loo Lin School of Medicine at the National University of Singapore. She is also an Adjunct Professor in the Faculty of Health Sciences at Simon Fraser University in Canada.
