

Dept of Medicine Biological and Chemical
Spill Response Workshop at MD1L16

Date: 27 May 2024

Time: 9.00 am to 12.30 pm

The objective was to provide refresher training for current spill responders, train new responders, and to provide a hands-on experience for new lab staff interested to know more about the spill response procedure. The participants appreciated the workshop, as it provided them with the opportunity to gain practical experience through simulated spill scenarios, including the use of spill kit items.

