Importance and Expectations of Resident Teaching	Strongly Disagree	Disagree	Neutral	Agree	Strongly Agree
Being taught by a resident will help me improve my medical knowledge and clinical skills
We expect residents to teach us during our clinical rotation
The residents are enthusiastic about teaching
The residents are able to adjust the teaching according to my needs (experience, competence, interest)
The residents are able to teach effectively

Barriers to Resident Teaching	Strongly Disagree	Disagree	Neutral	Agree	Strongly Agree
Ward work is too busy and residents have no time for teaching
There are too many lectures and tutorials outside of the ward to allow for resident teaching

Opportunity for Fair Evaluation	Strongly Disagree	Disagree	Neutral	Agree	Strongly Agree
I am aware that I am being evaluated by allocated residents during my rotation.
Resident teaching can serve as one of the platforms for my evaluation.
