

Ms Clara Wee

Chief Human Resource Officer,
National University Hospital

Faculty Profile

Clara Wee has over 35 years of experience in Human Resource, with over 25 years spent in senior management positions. She has been the Chief Human Resource Officer at National University Hospital since 2005 and has been Group Centre of Excellence Lead for Employee Relations since 2018, where she works closely with the union partners to ensure fair and collaborative labour practices. During her tenure, she was appointed Senior Director, Human Resources, of National University Health System (NUHS), where she played a pivotal role in the formation of NUHS for 7 years.

Clara is deeply passionate to building a culture of continuous learning and preparing the next generation of healthcare leaders. She has led her team in the development of a series of leadership development programmes, as well as the enhancement of the formal programme development framework. Her commitment to continual learning and skill development resulted in her team getting the Singapore Skills Future Employer Award in 2021.

Clara holds a Bachelor of Social Sciences (Sociology – 2nd upper Honours) from the National University of Singapore and was awarded the National Day Award - Public Administration Medal (Bronze) in 2023 for exceptional efficiency and ability in human resource management.
